

Dear Presbyterian Leaders,

Next week we will be at the Association of Presbyterian Church Educators (APCE) annual event. We look forward to meeting your church's educators. Drop by our booth to say hello, to chat about the Presbyterian Leader, or to let us know what being a Presbyterian Leader means to you. We'll see you in Nashville!

Staff Product Pick

Ten Tasks for Teaching

by Don Griggs

This two-session study outlines ten important tasks teachers should perform as they create their lesson plans. The first session deals with the theoretical aspects of planning for teaching and lays the groundwork for the more practical information that follows in session two.

Please note that this course is designed for teachers in the church who work with class members from children through adults. It may not be relevant for teachers of pre-school children.

Peace,

Andrew W. Yeager-Buckley
Electronic Marketing Associate

Leading Voices Feature

Sharing Authority and Responsibility

by Louis Weeks

Learn from Louis Weeks's experiences of his own continuing education in congregational authority and responsibility.

Leader Reader Feature

The Basics of Reformed Worship
by Cynthia Campbell

The heart of worship in the Reformed tradition is Word and sacrament. In this week's Leader Reader, Cynthia Campbell explores the meaning of Reformed worship as the work of the people and walks us through the meaning behind the elements of Reformed worship.