

Defending Design: The Scientific Case Against Evolution

Is biological life the result of blind evolution or the creation of an intelligent Designer? Come join renowned Cornell University scientist, Dr. John Sanford, as he examines important scientific evidence supporting Intelligent Design.

Professor Sanford, a former evolutionist, has taught genetics and horticultural science at Cornell since 1980. He has published over 80 scientific articles and holds over 30 patents. He testified on behalf of Intelligent Design at the 2005 Kansas Board of Education hearings and recently presented scientific evidence for design in his acclaimed book, Genetic Entropy & the Mystery of the Genome.
